We're excited to introduce you to the always interesting and insightful David Pitts. We hope you'll enjoy our conversation with David below.

I have been a psychic healer for over 15 years and have worked with my clients to help heal past hurts, dissolve pain and follow their life paths to find more joy and fulfillment in their lives. It was always important for me to share what Spirit tells me, so I can offer guidance and a positive direction for those who are seeking it. When I am in a session with someone, the messages from Spirit flow through me and it is clear to me where they are now, what has influenced them from the past that they may be still holding on to, and where they need to go. I am a conduit for the messages they need to receive to improve their lives.

In 2021 I was diagnosed with cancer and this turn of events greatly influenced me and the direction I would take as a healer. While in treatment I met many amazing people who were trying to cure their cancer physically, but weren't addressing the spiritual component as to why they have cancer. Since 95% of cancers are not genetic, it's tremendously important to consider the mind, body and spirit when you are in cancer treatment, in order for it to work effectively. Trauma and challenges from your past can create dis-ease in the body and over time may lead to illness. In order to put your body in alignment for optimum healing, the spiritual/emotional component must be considered and addressed. If these past circumstances have contributed to the illness that is now inside of you, they can only be fully dispelled if you are able to face the past issues and work to release them.

While working with cancer patients, it became clear to me that part of my journey of healing was to help others on theirs. While I continue to provide support and insight to my current clients, I am now offering spiritual guidance for cancer patients. This has become the most significant work of my life. When you have cancer you are given the gift of understanding the reality of the physical and emotional toll it takes on you. I believe that cancer isn't something you battle or fight, but something you work with to transmute. It is energetically and uniquely connected to you. The battle isn't necessarily with the cancer but one you have had with yourself and others over a great period of time. If left unaddressed the journey to wellness may be more difficult and less successful. I am dedicated to helping those with cancer on their journey of self discovery and wellness.

In addition to offering readings to my clients, I offer energy healing and will soon have available electromagnetic frequency treatments using a system called PEMF. These sessions

Awesome – so before we get into the rest of our questions, can you briefly introduce yourself to our readers.

I'm David and I'm a Psychic Empath, Healer and Seer.

I experience a 'knowing' from information received from energy, emotions, and Spirit. These connections allow me to receive insight and understanding about people, places and things. I channel this information and share my practice with you.

There are helpers on this plane and in others, working to heal you, reminding you of what you're here to do, and sometimes even, opening the way. Signs are real, but not so much about what is coming, but what is occurring now. We live in a world of many possibilities and it's up to each one of us to find that world and gain understanding from it. If you have a certain nature, then certain aspects in you give you power, and also come with side-effect ^

As you change your being-ness, the world reflects it.

Over the years she came to realize that this wasn't just a gut instinct, but was actually a gift that she could use to help others.

The world we live in is filled with endless opportunities for us to prosper, feel fulfilled and find joy. It is up to each of us to recognize our role in raising the energetic vibration of our family, community and world. We each play a part in the movement of this energy and the creation of positivity in our lives and the lives of others.

Nancy will teach you how to recognize the messages that your guides are sharing with you all the time. When you create a personal practice of letting go to Spirit and learn to pay attention to the guidance that is all around you, you will fall into a rhythm that creates endless possibilities for you. It's the art of practicing your practice every day.

We offer the following services to help you on your life path:

Energy Readings:

You'll receive new understanding about your direction and purpose, your spiritual awakening, and fresh insights about your life, career, and relationships.

Intuitive Guidance:

During your session, Nancy will discuss areas of your life that need clarity and direction, and will share the intuitive answers she receives from Spirit and her Guides to help you to open up energetically and look at new ways of experiencing your life.

When You Have Cancer:

Cancer is a challenging disease on many levels. While it is physically draining, it is also a very

Your cancer may have been caused by genetic or environmental issues, but for most, there are circumstances and events in their lives that have contributed to building dis-ease in their bodies. When we hold onto highly-charged emotions like shame, anger, fear, disappointment, as well as deep-rooted pain, our bodies manifest physical ailments in result.

Working with cancer himself, David knows first-hand how shocking the diagnosis can be, and how little support is provided to build you up spiritually, mentally and emotionally. He uses his energy gifts and listens to what Spirit has to say, to gain understanding as to what you are holding onto that needs to be released so you can heal fully and let go of past hurts. He will share with you how to work through your emotions, and provide mental treatments you can use everyday to improve your well being, and nourish your soul during this challenging time.

Working with Your Energy Gifts:

David will help you learn how to keep from being and feeling overwhelmed by the forces you sense. This is metaphysical teaching as David shares his practice.

As an Empath, Intuitive or HSP, you've been given additional sensory perception, and the pain and suffering you're feeling was not meant to curse you, but to wake you up to what you are; to bring understanding and so you can experience your potential, and ultimately, be of service.

You will learn to fill your space with your energy, so you can recognize the energies you're feeling and not only know what they are and where they are coming from, but what you're supposed to do with that information, without losing you in all that you feel.

We'd love to hear about you met your business partner.

My business partner is my wife Nancy. We met when we were both working for companies in the home textiles industry. We were immediately drawn to each other, and since we were both raised by entrepreneurial parents, we wanted to work for ourselves and founded our first company in 1994. Over the 28 years we have been together we have created and sold several businesses, including: a real estate investment and property management company and a web development and business consulting firm.

As we recognized and nurtured our spiritual gifts, we were called to share with and help others. We decided that we wanted to shift our focus to SoulFish, where we offer Daily Enc  Readings, Soul Videos, Life and Spiritual Coaching. We are dedicated to helping others to find and follow their path.

If you could go back, would you choose the same profession, specialty, etc.?

If we could go back, we would certainly choose our current spiritual profession, SoulFish. While we would have loved to have been doing our spiritual work 25 years ago, there were many valuable lessons we learned along the way with our other businesses that have helped us in developing SoulFish. Whether it is financial planning, marketing, community outreach, finding others to assist you with building your audience, being self employed requires a tremendous amount of personal commitment, perseverance and work ethic. If you're considering starting your own business it's important to recognize that with most small
